Dear visitor, we warmly welcome you to Museum Haus Konstruktiv!

While our aim is to ensure that you feel comfortable here, there are also rules that apply in connection with a museum visit: By entering Museum Haus Konstruktiv, you are acknowledging our house rules and all of the arrangements made by the supervisory staff for the purpose of maintaining security for people and artworks alike. In cases of doubt, the supervisory staff in attendance decide how to proceed. Before visiting the exhibition rooms, please note the following aspects of our house rules:

- The artworks are not to be touched.
- Museum Haus Konstruktiv is smoke-free.
- Food, drinks and animals are not allowed in the exhibition rooms (except for guide dogs).
- Handbags of all sizes, suitcases, backpacks, sport bags, travel bags, shopping bags, briefcases, musical instruments, large portfolios, wet-weather clothing, umbrellas, heavy coats and jackets etc. must be left in our wardrobe, which is free of charge.
- Writing and drawing with graphite or colored pencils on a drawing pad (max. A3) is allowed.
- Taking photographs with mobile telephones or compact cameras for private purposes is permitted, as long as no flash, tripod or selfie stick is used (exceptions are indicated). Any professional photography or filming requires permission from the director. To obtain this, please contact: presse@hauskonstruktiv.ch.
- Large groups and school classes must be announced 4 days in advance.
- The instructions of the supervisory staff are to be followed at all times.

We thank you for your attention and hope you enjoy your time at Museum Haus Konstruktiv.
